And Saints, with one accord,
Shall with all hope and courage free
Sing praise to thee O Lord.

Mr. Appletrees Hymn.

1. L Et God arise, now up he is.
As all the world may see,
To take his peopls part, wherefore,
March to revenge all we.
2. That worke which did occasion us
This day to set apart,
So great it is, it to discribe
No man hath got the Art.

Our

3. Our Enemies which in battel fell
Long since us threaten did,
Us to anoy which did procure
Our Armys march with speed.
4. From London, and from other parts
where they well quartered were,
To seeke and for to find out those
That sought to worke our snare.
5. Before they went, to God they call'd
Whose cause they were to plead,
To the Church they also sent
That they would interceed.
6. That so together, they might prevail
With God to them to direct,
To guid them in his ways
Their perions to protect.
7. When they had passed by Barwick
And towards Haddington did come,
Thy Saints did sing, in gladness they
Would fight with all and some.
8. Our Armies, they prudentially
Did seeke that place to gaine,
Where siting down, they waited long
To fight, but all in vain.
9. Much hardship they did undergo
Their Enemies for to find,
But those men that make great hoast
To Engage had no mind.

17. And brought us to such straights that we
No way escape could make,
But must yield to their tearms and glad
What they would give to take.
18. Then God appear'd himself and did
Our Souldiers courage raise,
And gave them Victory so great
For which wee'l give him praise.
19. As in the days of Sisera
The Starrs for us did fight,
The Moon to them was darkened
But gave to us her light.
20. Foure thousand kill'd was on the place
Ten thousand prisoners were,
Their bag and baggage they forsook
And did their Ordnance spare
21. Their Callers they did leave behind
In number great to see,
Edenborough & Leith they also quit
And did to Sterling flee.
22. In which they trust to this day
Their King and Covenant,
Not fully able them to free
As all the World may grant.
23. But we will trust and praise our God
That this great work hath wrought,
That in our strength delivered us
When we by prayer did seek.

10. To Musleborough the enemy came
Our Armies for to outbrave,
Upon our works immediatly
Sought something to atchive.
11. Fifteen select Troops of the Church
All Covenanters fore,
Came trooping forth, and some did swear
That Cromwells Honour to prove.
12. Dead or alive their prisoner
Some cry'd they would him bring,
And offer him a sacrifice
Unto their new-made King.
13. But God our Lord who heard their brags
Them disappointed there,
Our Army there did many kill
The rest all ran for feare. (break
14. Their Horse, their Speare the Lord did
Great mischief to prevent,
Their further hurt did make to cease
Their deeds for to repent.
15. Our Noble General also sought
With love them to overcome,
Professing that nothing they did
Should his intentions turn.
16. But nothing could with them prevail
To stay them from the same,
Though fight they durst not at all
Until they had their aym.
