During the storm of Wednesday se'nnight, a tree was rent by lightening in the Shardeloes Park, belonging to T.T. Drake, Esq. into a thousand pieces, some of which were found at a distance of 50 yards from the trunk. The coachman who drives the coach that runs through Aylesbury from Deddington to London, underwent a narrow escape. Not far from Aylesbury a sheet of lightening descended a few paces before his horses, lying on the ground (to use his own expression) "like a table cloth". The horses stopped short, and for some time refused to proceed. Fire-balls fell in several places.
