DEDDINGTON.

FUNERAL OF MR. J. H. HIORNS.

The funeral of Mr. John Henry Hirons, rell-known Deddington man, whose death we reported last week, took place at Deddington n Friday afternoon. The interment in the emetery followed a service at the Congregational hurch. It was one of the largest funerals seen t Deddington for a long time, mourners at-ending from all over the district in addition a thirty-four uniformed members of local fire origades.

Mr. Hiorns died at the Radeliffe Infirmary, Oxford, on Monday last week, at the age of 41, rom septicemia, following inflammation of the lip. He was a native of Deddington where the lip. He was a native of Deddington where he had carried on a hardware business. He was second officer of the Deddington Fire Brigade and a member of the Deddington branch of the British Legion, the local Court of Foresters, and the Cherwell Valley Lodge of Oddfellows. He leaves a widow and four children, the oldest on being 19 years of age.

The service in the Congregational Church and

The service in the Congregational Church and at the graveside was conducted by the Rev. I. F. Bradley, the Church, which seats 120, being crowded with mourners. As the cortege left the Church Mrs. Smith played on the organ "I know that my Redeemer liveth." The thirty-four firemen in their uniforms and helmets made an impressive sight as they marched at the head of the coffin from the Church to the cemetery.

Church to the cemetery.

The chief mourners were: —Mrs. J. H. Hiorns (widow), Mr. M. Hiorns, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hiorns, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hiorns, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hiorns, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hiorns, Mrs. W. Sturley, Mrs. J. Young, Miss Young, Mrs. Peachy, Mr. G. Bliss, Mrs. W. Hiorns, Mrs. A. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ray and Mr. A. Leigh.

The Collection were the representatives research.

A. Ray and Mr. A. Leigh.

The following were the representatives present of the various fire brigades—Deddington Brigade of the various fire brigades—Deddington Brigade—all the members under their president, Mr. B.
Millington and Chief Officer R. S. Hall, the following firemen acting as bearers—Mr. J.
Callow, Mr. J. Cox, Mr. C. Austin and Mr. W.
Checkley. Banbury Brigade—2nd Officer F. G.
Cobbett, 3rd Officer R. Kilby, 4th Officer F.
E. Kilby and Firemen Anker, Dawson and Wilkinson. Aynho Park Brigade—Vice-president W. Wightman, Chief Officer L. Coles,
Engineer W. Lane and Firemen H. Humphries,
C. Horley, G. Page and E. Mobbs. Adderburg,
Brigade—Chief Officer Beasley, 2nd Officer
Bennett, Engineer Coleman, and Fireman
Baddeley, Oxford Volunteer Brigade—Supt.
Wetsta and seven men.

Watts and seven men.

Among others present were the following representatives of the Cherwell Valley Lodge of Oddfellows—Mr. J. Collingridge, Mr. R. F. Tucker, Mr. H. Tibbetts, Mr. A. E. Plumb, Mr. G. Drinkwater, Mr. F. B. Garrett and Mr. C. Castle. The Olde Castle Lodge was represented by Mr. Tibbetts, secretary and members. A full complement of members of the Deddington Branch of the British Legion was present under Captain R. Compton represented the Deddings Foresters, and Mr. C. L. Sp. Bible Class. Others indeworth, Mr. F. Gibbs, M. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mr. Smill Baker,

W Baker,

3 8 1

n n