70b	Banbury Guardian	Lengthy letter from 'C.F.', Deddington, decrying closure of National Schools less than 3 years after opening (with 120 boys and 130 girls) and consequent absence of any day schooling in town. Recounts difficulties in 1851/52 in establishing schools (cost £1,244 14s. 7d.). Limited Sunday school instruction, mostly by nonconformists. "It will scarcely be believed that a town ... .. possessing two fine new school rooms, erected within the last three years, at a cost of between twelve and thirteen hundred pounds, should have those rooms abandoned, the windows being broken, the play-ground overrun with thistles, nettles, and rank weeds, horses and any cattle constantly getting into it, the gates and fences being daily destroyed, and no one endeavouring to counteract this flagrant evil." (See transcript in Vol. 2, addendum to f.2.) https://www.britishnewspaperarchive.co.uk/viewer/BL/0001523/18551115/020/0002?browse=true	15 Nov 1855

72a	Poster	Notice of public meeting at the Unicorn Inn chaired by Secretary to the Charity Commission to discuss scheme for the future management of the Deddington Charity Estates. "As this Meeting will be about a final settlement of a matter which has for many years been a source of dissatisfaction to a large portion of the Inhabitants of this Parish, it is desirable that all who feel an interest in "THE BEST BENEFIT OF	6 Jan 1854

		THE POOR OF DEDDINGTON" should be present."
72b	North Oxon Monthly Times	Letter from 'Another "Chapter," but one of Truth ' regarding controversy over alleged accumulated funds of the Deddington Charity Estates feoffees. See p.88 for background. Correspondent strongly critical of hypocrisy of letter from 'Chapter' in the Banbury Guardian supporting the actions of the feoffees despite admitting their lax integrity.	[Dec 1850]
73b	Banbury Guardian	Letter from C. Faulkner, Deddington, one of churchwardens. Income of charity to be expended for " the best benefit of the Poor ". Supposed to be annual accounts audited by 3 local J.P.s and the parish overseers. Faulkner estimates annual rental income £161 2s. 1d. against payments of £78 15s. 0d., leaving a disposable balance of £82 7s. 1d. Query size of accumulated surplus since accounts last laid before Parliamentary Commissioners in 1824 ? How has this money been accounted for ? Feoffees, several of whom have moved from Deddington, partake of dinners at the expense of the charity, which they have no right to do. Also claimed Mr. Henry Dean renting land from feoffees at a lower rate than the rent charged to poorer tenants. Charity managed by "two or three", while majority of trustees unaware of proceedings. https://www.britishnewspaperarchive.co.uk/viewer/BL/0001523/18510109/037/0003?browse=true	9 Jan 1851
74a	Cutting	Detailed account of Vestry meeting. Appointments: Mr. J. Hopcraft and Mr. R. Whetton, Overseers for Deddington, Mr. W. Lovell for Hempton; Mr. F. Gulliver and Mr. R. East, Surveyors; Mr. C. Davis and Mr. G. Chater, Assessors. Mr. Faulkner enquired whether anyone present could give any account of £30 which appeared to have been paid for a stone pit about 8 years previously. 1844 vestry had ordered that an exhausted stone pit on Mr. Gulliver's father's farm should be offered to him for that sum. No records as to what happened. Reported to adjourned vestry that £30 paid but not accounted for. Correspondent argues appointing a person to	Undated

		assist the overseers and keep the parish accounts would avoid loss of sums like this.
74b	North Oxon Monthly Times	Reprint of letter to editor by 'Q' dated 18 November 1850 about the Deddington Feoffees' Estates puzzling to know what are the annual receipts of the Feoffees, who are the poor recipients and what is the amount of any accumulated surplus. List of properties, occupiers and conjectural statement of annual income and expenditure. Balance in hand ? Per 1825 Parliamentary Commissioners, accounts should be audited by the Overseers of the Poor and countersigned by local J.P.s. No accounts published during intervening 26 years. There must be a "nest of golden eggs" somewhere. List of feoffees: Mr. John Churchill                      Mr. William Dean Henry Churchill                      William Merry Thomas Austin                      Benj.
