(1) Text in blue italic typeface denotes notices concerning Turnpike Trusts whose Clerk, or joint Clerk, was Samuel Churchill, junior.

Notices by the Banbury, Brailes and Shipston Turnpike Trust, of which Samuel Churchill, junior was joint Clerk, have not been transcribed.

(2) The overwhelming majority of notices and advertisements were repeated, sometimes many times. Notices by Turnpike Trusts would typically be repeated several or more times. Repeat notices and advertisements have not been recorded.

(3) Jackson's Oxford Journal had a tendency to refer to Clifton Hampden, between Abingdon and Dorchester-on-Thames, as Clifton, giving rise to the potential for confusion with Clifton in the parish of Deddington. Relevant newspaper entries have been interpreted in accordance with the context where possible.

A very liberal subscription having been entered into to defray the expences of a public dinner to the inhabitants of the parish of Deddington, on Tuesday last, about 1600 sat down, in the Market-street, at 38 tables, furnished with a profusion of hot plum puddings, roast and boiled beef, with vegetables, and an abundance of strong ale. After dinner many loyal and appropriate toasts were given, with excellent songs and music. The tables, Town-Hall, and houses round the tables, were decorated with flags, oak, laurel and olive branches, and flowers, and in the evening several appropriate transparencies, crowns, stars, devices in variegated lamps, and other illuminations were exhibited; and the merry dance, in which the principal inhabitants joined, continued in several parts of the street till a late hour. After supplying every person who, from illness or absence, was prevented attending the dinner, there remained sufficient for an entertainment on the following day, and, in the evening of Wednesday, upwards of 1200 of the inhabitants partook at the same tables of a cold repast. The utmost decorum and regularity was observed; joy sat on every countenance, and the mind of every one appeared animated by the same wish, that of making each other happy.
